The culture of coming and leaving has always been part of the realm and it takes a lot to build the memories which would condense our joy of life. This entering creates the mystic effect of knowing and unboxing the mysteries of bitter-sour moments that would be cherished in the future. Collectively the gazing of the passing evocation has turned the pages and tickled the sorrow of adieu. It is remembering all that has passed or remained forever in the heart of Raffles.
